

3rd Sunday in Ordinary Time
Sunday January 22nd, 2023

Today's Liturgy gives us a lesson in ancient Israelite geography and history.
Isaiah's prophecy in today's First Reading is quoted by Matthew in today's Gospel. Both intend to recall the apparent fall of the everlasting kingdom promised to David 2 Samuel 7:12-13; Psalm 89; Psalm 132:11-12.
Eight centuries before Christ, that part of the kingdom where the tribes of Zebulun and Naphtali lived was attacked by the Assyrians, and the tribes were hauled off into captivity 2 Kings 15:29; 1 Chronicles 5:26. It marked the beginning of the kingdom's end. The Davidic empire finally crumbled in the sixth century BC, when Jerusalem was seized by Babylon and the remaining tribes were driven into exile 2 Kings 24:14.
Isaiah prophesied that Zebulun and Naphtali, the lands first to be degraded, would be the first to see the light of God's salvation. Jesus today fulfills that prophecy—announcing the restoration of David's kingdom at precisely the spot where the kingdom began to fall.
His gospel of the Kingdom includes not only the twelve tribes of Israel but all the nations—symbolized by the "Galilee of the Nations." Calling His first disciples, two fishermen of the Sea of Galilee, He appoints them to be "fishers of men," gathering people from the ends of the earth.
They are to preach the gospel, Paul says in today's Epistle, to unite all peoples in the same mind and in the same purpose—in a worldwide kingdom of God.
By their preaching, Isaiah's promise has been delivered. A world in darkness has seen the light. The yoke of slavery and sin, borne by humanity since time began, has been smashed.
And we are able now, as we sing in today's Psalm, to dwell in the house of the Lord, to worship Him in the land of the living.

Understanding & Defending the Catholic Moral Vision

Saturday, February 11 | 12:00 – 4:30 pm

Live online via Zoom

What is “right” and “wrong”? Is what’s right for you right for me? Is there a right and wrong for everyone, all the time? These are difficult questions to discuss in our culture. We live in a society that supports the opinion that each person should make up his or her own morality—that there is no moral truth that applies to everyone.

In this half-day workshop, you will learn how to talk about morality in a relativistic world through a series of four video talks by Dr. Edward Sri of the Augustine Institute.

To register and get the Zoom link, contact: email Alana at alaperle@telus.net or call/text 780-446-9009

Presented by Our Lady of Perpetual Help Parish, Sherwood Park
